A diagram of a rectangle with a light gray background. A vertical dashed blue line divides the rectangle into two sections. The left section is labeled '10' in magenta at the bottom-left corner. The right section is labeled '15' in magenta at the bottom-right corner. The entire rectangle is enclosed by a dashed magenta border. Inside this, there is a dashed orange border. The vertical dashed blue line is positioned such that it divides the rectangle into two parts, with the left part being labeled '10' and the right part being labeled '15'.
